

About Scott

Professional Highlights

Scott Troy has been helping clients understand their insurance options and protect their families against risks for more than 10 years. In addition to his long-term care designation, he holds licenses in property & casualty and life & health.

Prior to his appointment with Genworth Financial in May of 2007, he worked for Farmers Insurance helping people with auto, life and home insurance.

Scott started his insurance career in 1997 with Aon, one of the world's largest insurance brokers, as a client services representative for their E&O division. After a year, he was asked to become the operations and marketing manager for Aon Specialty Products Network. There Scott was responsible for client service, marketing communications and revenue reporting. After 3 years with ASPN, Scott was recruited by a small specialty broker. As a regional broker he was responsible for developing relationships and driving business by working with agency principals in 14 states.

Personal

Scott graduated from Virginia Commonwealth University in Richmond, VA and moved to Chicago in 1992.

Except when the temperature is in single digits and below, Scott thinks Chicago is the best city in the world. He has said, "We really have it all – art, culture, restaurants, public transportation and a friendly community."

Personally, he is divorced. No children. His parents live in Norfolk, Virginia. His brother is in Breckenridge, Colorado.

In his free time he runs, bikes and swims. He has run 4 marathons and competed in several triathlons. His next athletic challenge will be to compete in an IronMan triathlon in the next 2 years. Working out helps him with his weakness for pizza, bakery treats, and cheeseburgers.
